The Rochester Academy of Music & Arts will host its third annual Dogs Rock! Fundraiser for Nuts for Mutts Rescue. Academy founder Brannon Hungness began the event to encourage families to spend the night together and benefit a nonprofit rescue group. Nuts for Mutts Rescue is a nonprofit organization that provides food, medical care and homes for pets in need. Local musician Brannon Hungness opened the Rochester Academy of Music & Arts in 2007 when he saw an opportunity to turn charity work into a family event that shows kids how much fun giving back can be.

"Many of the fundraisers I've attended featured cocktails and fancy hors d'oeuvres," Hungness said. "I started Dogs Rock! to be more inviting to families, encouraging parents to bring the kids along for a night of family entertainment, instead of having to leave them with the sitter."

Dogs Rock! is the third annual fundraiser the Academy has organized for Nuts for Mutts Rescue. To date, it has raised nearly $8,000 for the pet rescue, including a $3,000 personal donation from Hungness.

"Nuts for Mutts is nonprofit and runs completely on donations and volunteers," Hungness said. "It's very important to help organizations who are doing great work locally. Plus, my dog Hector was a rescue from Nuts for Mutts. Hector is a wonderful friend, and I will always be grateful to Nuts for Mutts for saving his life."

Dogs Rock! is a free event, but the buffet and laser tag are an additional cost. For more information and to purchase raffle tickets, visit dogsrock.mydagsite.com.
